

Supervisor Takes Issue With $275 Aid Ceiling

By KENNETH HAHN
County Supervisor

For several years I have been demanding a complete overhaul of the administration of welfare by federal and state officials.

There is much to be done to simplify the forms, eliminate duplication, and decrease the army of clerks, stenographers, and typists.

A suggestion made in—and development by—my own office to check Old Age Security by mail rather than a personal visit by a social worker, recently was credited with saving more than $2 million a year. The red tape which had to be cut to implement this common-sense proposal was enormous.

THERE IS not enough effort being made to work for the families that need assistance by getting them jobs and off the welfare rolls.

In my opinion, many of Governor Ronald Reagan's recent announcements are sound. I am particularly impressed with his proposal to make close relatives responsible for sharing in the cost of supporting some aid recipients.

However, I question the wisdom of the Governor's orders that a flat $275 per month be put on the grant to any one family.

THE STATE should be extremely careful on the problem of large families. It would be cruel and inhumane to neglect children from large families because the father is unemployed (sometimes he is sick or disabled).

The number of children in a family should be a criteria for aid.

A fixed limit of $275 a month for a family of 10 or 12 (or in some cases, as we have in this County, a family of 15) would be completely unrealistic.

In Los Angeles County alone, there are 12,547 families with six children or more receiving assistance. (Do you know of any family of eight who could exist on $275 per month?)

A TOTAL OF 23,343 families receive more than $275 per month in Los Angeles County.

The entire welfare program needs to be overhauled, from Washington to Sacramento to the counties. Local authorities should have more flexibility in administering the welfare laws under the home rule principle.

But, I would not stand quiet, or look the other way, to see the poor, the neglected, the blind, the orphans, the widows, and the disabled used as "punching bags" by anyone, including the Governor.

To humiliate and degrade the poor is wrong.

Work has been completed on a $395,598 storm drain facility in the Torrance-Gardena area, according to Supervisor Kenneth Hahn.

More than a mile and a half in length, the drain was installed in sections of Casimir Avenue, 164th Street, Crenshaw Boulevard, 187th Place, Western Avenue, Gramercy Place, 171st Street, and various rights-of-way.

The project was financed from the $275 million storm drain bond issue approved by county voters in 1964, Hahn said.

City Councilman Ross A. Sciarrotta has formally filed papers for the 17th Congressional District seat now held by retiring Rep. Cecil R. King.

The Republican candidate explained that he is running to help "stem the tide of a colossal welfare state which is lowering the fiber of many able-bodied Americans."

Sciarrotta says he would only administer relief to the able-bodied through on-the-job training in order to get them off welfare rolls.

He also expressed his views on the Vietnamese War. "It's a mess," he said. "Perhaps we should not have gotten into it but now that we're there we should use all of our power to end it fast and bring the boys home."

Sciarrotta is an instructor of political science and world affairs at Long Beach City College. He has served for six years on the Torrance City Council and for seven years on the Civil Service Commission of Torrance.

The local lawmaker has the endorsement of T. A. "Ted" Bruinsma, who ran unsuccessfully for the Congressional seat in 1962.

James D. Montgomery of Torrance has been named to the fall semester honor roll of the College of Engineering at New Mexico State University, Las Cruces, N.M.

Montgomery, who completed requirements for a bachelor's degree in civil engineering in late January at NMSU, is now a graduate student on the campus. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Montgomery, 22402 Redbeam Ave.
